Consigned Items:

These will be children's clothing (up to size 10), maternity wear, baby equipment, toys and books.

Consignments are limited to 40 items per appointment.

Quality Standards:

Kensington Caboose aims to supply only quality merchandise in excellent condition. Clothing must be up-to-date, seasonal, clean, ironed and free of stains and tears. Items with missing belts or buttons will not be accepted. Fall/winter clothing will be accepted from July 1st; spring/summer clothing will be accepted from February 1st. Toys must be clean and without missing parts. Baby equipment must be clean and meet safety standards. All electronics must have working batteries. Kensington Caboose reserves the right to reject items not up to these standards.

Terms of Consignment:

Kensington Caboose will determine those items that are saleable and the sale price of each item. A receipt listing the saleable items and their respective prices will be available to the consignor upon request. Prices are subject to change at the discretion of management.

Consigned items remaining unsold after 2 months will be reduced 50%. At the end of this consignment term, the items become the property of Kensington Caboose. Kensington Caboose reserves the right to donate such items to a charitable organization chosen by management or to dispose of the items as it chooses.

All items are left at the owner's risk. Kensington Caboose is not responsible for damage due to handling, or loss due to fire or theft; however, Kensington Caboose will do their utmost to protect the merchandise and to ensure a happy consignor. We are here to serve.
